

CSc 84020 Homework 4

1. Write down (in whatever form you prefer) a high-level description of the code you intend to write for the project.

This should include a statement of the problem you intend the code to solve, a description of the major components of that code, and the interactions between those components.

(100 points)