NYCAC, the New York Colloquium on Algorithms and Complexity is an annual event. Its purpose is to give the opportunity to graduate students in New York to observe talks of researchers from all areas of the theory of Algorithms and Computational Complexity.

Speakers:
Eric Allender (Rutgers)
Dimitris Fotakis (Yahoo Research and NTUA)
Martin FÜRER (Penn State)
Alexander Golovnev (Columbia and Yahoo Research)
Lane Hemaspaandra (U. Rochester)
Christos Papadimitriou (Columbia)
Mihalis Yannakakis (Columbia)
Manolis Zambetakis (MIT)

Friday November 17, 2017, New York City
The Graduate Center, CUNY
Room C205 and Recital Hall

Organization
Stathis Zachos
Sergei Artemov
Antonis Achilleos
Marios Georgiou
Konstantinos Pouliasis

http://www.sci.brooklyn.cuny.edu/~zachos/nycac_2017/