

User Defined Functions

- A programmer can define functions on their own.
- Put the function in the HEAD section so that it will be defined before it is encountered:
- Sample function:

```
function sayittwice(message)
{
    document.write(message);
    document.write(message);
}
```

- In the BODY section, we can then write:

```
< script language= "javascript" > food = prompt("What is your favorite food?");
    sayittwice(food);
< /script>
```